

Valentines Day Cheer Up For Homebound Senior Citizens

So many senior citizens are homebound and have little or no company all year long. Many of these clients are in ill health and live alone. They are living independently but on a limited budget and with very little social interaction

During the winter we help cheer them up with a bit of sunshine on a snowy day. These gifts will be delivered by many agencies with caseworkers serving the elderly including the Mobile Pantry, Grandparents as Parents the Visiting Nurses Association and many more. Nurses and food bank volunteers will deliver them while making medical and meal stops.

Flowery gifts from the heart that say "someone is thinking about you"

Our goal is 300 Valentine's

The purpose is gift from the heart so don't spend much money on things. And as an added bonus, it gets us all thinking about spring. This is one project that is great for any age group. Just use what you have. It is the message of cheer and the hope of spring that we are shooting for.

What Cards, small pots with paper flowers, homemade jewelry, small plants, flower seed packs, extra bulbs wrapped in netting, or any other spring type thing. Use your imagination! Please no live flowers or other temperature sensitive items and things may get stored before delivery.

When

Deliver to the warehouse by the Monday before Valentines Day.
